

Cleaning Products - North America

A North American manufacturer of cleaning products sought help on additives that would appear “invisible” to the naked eye, but that would leave a residue after a cleaning application and appear when exposed to light other than the visible spectrum. Sabol provided information on dye photophysics, solubility, and other relevant parameters in a cleaning product formulation.

Joseph E. Sabol, Ph.D.
CHEMICAL CONSULTANT
P.O.Box 085198
Racine, WI 53408-5198 USA
www.chem-consult.com
Providing chemical analysis and research and development services since 1999.
