

Spot Test Paper - Asia

An Asian company wanted to enter the aqueous ion spot-test market and sought help on the chemistry of dyes and other molecular species that would change color when exposed to the species of interest. Sabol provided the chemistry of ion-selective dyes and the technology by which these dyes could be incorporated in to various papers and subsequently finished into test strips.

Joseph E. Sabol, Ph.D.

CHEMICAL CONSULTANT

P.O.Box 085198

Racine, WI 53408-5198 USA

www.chem-consult.com

Providing chemical analysis and research and development services since 1999.
